

TERMS OF PEACE NOT SETTLED

Danger That Steel Strike Conference Will End in War.

FEAR OF TROUBLE

Union Workers Halting Over the Morgan Proposition of Open Mills.

BOTH ARE STUBBORN

Pittsburg, July 31.—The advisory board of the Amalgamated association resumed consideration of the peace proposal this morning. Some definite announcement is expected today.

All reporters are excluded from the building in which the Amalgamated officers are meeting. Shaffer disappeared this morning and it was reported he had gone to New York to meet the trade representatives but he appeared at noon and joined the conference.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 31.—J. Pierpont Morgan's proposition to President Shaffer and Secretary Williams, in New York last Saturday, for a settlement of the steel workers' strike, was not accepted by the members of the General Executive board of the Amalgamated association at its meeting today. A counter proposition was made to Mr. Morgan and an answer is expected from him by tomorrow, when the board will meet to receive it. Unless Mr. Morgan changes his terms the strike will not only be continued, but President Shaffer's threat to throw idle the mills of the Federal Steel company, National Steel company, American Steel and Wire company and other subsidiary interests of the United States Steel corporation, wherever the union has members, will be put into execution. This is the situation today.

Great excitement was caused last night by the Carnegie Steel company's men in the Lawrenceville mills joining the strike without waiting for the order from President Shaffer of the Amalgamated association. Their action indicates that the word has gone out that there will be no settlement of the strike.

The officials of the association claim there is nothing new about Mr. Morgan's proposition, the main point of which is that the combines will sign the Amalgamated scales for only those mills that were union up to July 1. By this is meant the mills which were under the amalgamated control last year. All others are to be considered "open" mills, and no discrimination against men who refuse to join the union should be made. There is a difference of opinion as to what is meant by union mills, and on this there will be a split, judging from present indications. President Shaffer and other Amalgamated officials claim they now have five mills which were not under their control last year. Now the men there are on strike.

ELEPHANTS MADE HORSES NERVOUS

An Exciting Runaway This Morning Due to an Experience With the Circus Yesterday.

Olney H. Hoopgood, a teamster who resides at 213 North Jackson street, was loading a box onto his heavy wagon on South Jackson street about nine o'clock this morning when the team of spirited horses became frightened and tore up the street at a breakneck pace. They ran down Pleasant street and crossed Court street bridge.

In front of Nelson's livery was a man with a patent medicine outfit. As the runaways came along he jumped out of his rig and made tracks for a place of safety and his outfit had a very narrow escape from being demolished. George Charlton who was out in a buggy also got a quick move to get into the alley at the rear of Court Street M. E. church.

The runaways continued on their way rejoicing and on reaching Main street turned south and ran down to the Lewis Knitting works, where they turned west and ran to Park street.

They attempted to run into an open barn door near Shurtleff's ice cream factory but turned away and collided with a post opposite the jail breaking the post short off, but doing no damage to the rig. A young man by the name of James Hoops, who resides at Footville, saw the runaways as they passed the Court House park, followed them up and finally caught them on Park street. Mr. Hoopgood said the team was nervous from being frightened by the Ringling Brothers' elephants yesterday and they almost ran away then. It was a lively run that they took this morning and it is a wonder that so little damage was done.

Appoints Osteopath Member
Madison, Wis., July 31.—[Special]—Governor La Follette today appointed Dr. A. M. Morris, of La Crosse, as the osteopath member of the state board of medical examiners under the law passed by the legislature last winter.

THE LONG DROUTH SENDS PRICES UP

Meats, Eggs and Potatoes Make Living Expenses Twice as High as Before.

Chicago, Ill., July 30.—Though the drouth has been broken the woeful effect of the agricultural condition is now being brought home to Chicago, and to other cities as well. Prices of vegetables average double what they were a year ago, and to make both ends meet boarding house keepers and restaurateurs have been compelled to either raise their prices or curtail the quality served.

Poultry and veal come in deteriorated to such an extent as to cause a falling off in the demand. Eggs arrive with a large percentage of loss. It is a good sign that the drought-stricken South Water street with six out of a dozen in proper condition.

So serious has the fruit crop suffered that for canning purposes the prices are almost prohibitive, and California fruits are bringing almost as much as they did at the beginning of the season.

Potatoes which last year at from 30 to 40 cents per bushel are now moved at $1.25 and $1.30. During the last few days dry pea beans have advanced 50 cents a bushel, owing to the demand from the drought-stricken districts. Even at this advance dealers are unable to fill all their orders. The prices quoted are wholesale.

HARMONY AMONG THE SOCIALISTS

Olive Branch is Sent to Debs—Platform Committee Makes a Report at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, July 31.—The National Socialist convention made an effort to harmonize today and was partly successful. After a conference between Mr. Brooks, leader of the Springfield faction, a message was sent to Eugene Debs declaring the convention to be harmonious.

The platform committee reported this morning. The platform advocates public ownership of all means of transportation, communication and all other public utilities, as well as all industries controlled by trusts, monopolies and combines; the reduction of the hours of labor; state or national insurance of working people; the inauguration of a system of public works and improvements for the employment of the unemployed; the public credit to be utilized for the purpose; the education of all children up to the age of 18 years; the state and municipal aid for books and equal civil and political rights for men and women; the initiative and referendum; and no more public land to be sold.

GOLD ON A FARM NEAR HOLY HILL

Farmer Who was "49er" Makes a Discovery in a Lime Kiln Near Pewaukee.

Pewaukee, Wis., July 31.—Thomas Whelan owns an 80-acre farm on the south side of Holy Hill. Six weeks ago, while repairing the interior of his lime kiln, he noticed some gold ore in the stones that were loose on the floor. Whelan, who is a "forty-niner," at once began to investigate its source. On examining closer into the composition of the rock he discovered further trace and later sent a few samples to Milwaukee. The samples when assayed proved to be unusually rich.

The samples are what Mr. Whelan calls "float" rock detached from the vein—and as they were found near the south foot of Holy Hill it is quite likely that the outcropping vein will be found somewhere near the top of the hill.

Scofield in 'Phone Business
Marinette, Wis., July 31.—Applications for telephone franchises, in Marinette and Menominee were made today by former Gov. Edward Scofield of Oconto and A. L. Hutchinson of Weyauwega, Wis. They will make them a part of the independent telephone system of Wisconsin. Similar applications will be made in Oconto and Green Bay.

EMPHATIC WARNING SENT TO GREECE

Russian Czar Will Not Tolerate Any Attempt of King George to Seize Crete.

Vienna, July 31.—An Athens dispatch states that the Russian government has addressed an emphatic note to Greece warning her that any attempt on her part to seize Crete would prove disastrous. It is said that he powers are exchanging views as to the best course to pursue should Greece persist in her attempt to seize Crete.

MORE THREATENING IN SAN FRANCISCO

Over 50,000 Buildings Trades Workmen Thrown Out of Work—Non-Union Men Being Armed.

San Francisco, July 31.—The waterfront strike situation this morning is unchanged. The sand teamsters quit this morning indirectly affecting 50,000 building trades workmen, whose supplies will be cut off. Non-union men are being armed.

REPORTS OF CROP DESTRUCTION HAVE BEEN MUCH EXAGGERATED

Assistant Secretary of Treasury, Hod A. Taylor Says That the Crops All Over the Country Are in Good Shape—Conditions in Wisconsin Fair.

Washington, D. C., July 31.—Secretary Wilson has left for a trip through the western drought stricken district. He says that he believes the reports of damage done to the corn crop are exaggerated.

Washington, July 31.—Information sent over the country regarding the destruction of corn and other crops in the West has greatly exaggerated the true situation," said Assistant Secretary Hod A. Taylor, who has just returned from a "three weeks' trip through the West. "While I did not visit Kansas and Nebraska, the two great corn states, I gained a great deal of valuable information which furnishes proof of the real conditions as well as could have been done by personal observation.

"I was a close observer of the crop conditions prevailing in Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The heat in those states during the last few weeks has been terrific. Notwithstanding these climatological conditions, the crops are in excellent shape."

"Aside from my personal observation I have talked with personal friends, including a great many reliable and closely observing railroad men, upon the crop conditions throughout the great Western agricultural section. Railroad men make an especial point of keeping thoroughly posted on crop conditions, and their testimony on the subject may therefore be accepted as entirely reliable. They say the reports from Kansas and Nebraska concerning the damage done by the drought have been magnified.

"There is every prospect for unusually large crops all over the west, notwithstanding unfavorable weather conditions. In Minnesota, the great wheat crop is in excellent condition. Oats, barley, rye, hay and potatoes are also in good shape and the crops of these products for the year will largely excel those of last year, both in quality and quantity."

"The agricultural crop bureau bulletin issued today says in regard to Wisconsin: Drought, which was confined to the southern counties, broken by copious rains; corn, tobacco, and potatoes in southern section on upland, sandy soil probably a total failure, but elsewhere much improved; all growing crops in central and northern sections in excellent condition; haying nearing completion; crop heavy except in drought section, quality excellent; considerable oats, barley, and wheat in stock, some thrashing done, yield fair; oats generally light in weight.

OSHKOSH TROLLEY LINES ARE SOLD

Milwaukee Company Secures Interurban Roads, Completing Link in Chicago-Green Bay Route.

How's This?
Oshkosh, Wis., July 31.—The plant of the Winnebago Traction company, including the Oshkosh Electric Street railway system of seventeen miles, the interurban line of thirteen miles connecting Oshkosh and Neenah, Electric Park and Park line and equipments, has been sold to the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company. The system constitutes an important link in the proposed electric railway system from Chicago to Green Bay, a distance of 198 miles of which lines aggregating 106 miles are now in operation.

DR. W. H. PALMER ON BOARD OF CENSORS

Madison, Wis., July 31.—At the annual meeting of the Central Wisconsin Medical society in the capitol here yesterday the following officers were elected: President, Dr. J. A. Jackson, Madison; secretary and treasurer, Dr. C. S. Sheldon, Madison; vice presidents, Drs. E. C. Helm, Beloit; M. T. Martin, Merrimac; S. R. Moyer, Monroe; L. V. Lewis, Sun Prairie; board of censors, Drs. C. A. Root, Reedsburg; W. F. McCabe, Beloit; F. W. Evans, Madison; W. H. Palmer, Janesville.

From 2 to 4 the doctors enjoyed a banquet at the Park hotel. Dr. J. A. Jackson, of this city, acted as toastmaster, and responses were made by nearly everyone on the board.

Dr. J. F. Pember and Dr. W. H. Palmer of Janesville, read papers during the afternoon session.

HOARD CONSULTS WITH STEPHENSON

The "Half Breeds" Preparing for an Organization to Offset the One Made by the Stalwarts.

Marinette, Wis., July 31.—Ex-Gov. Hoard was in Marinette yesterday and was in conference with Isaac Stephenson all of the morning. Mr. Hoard has been spending a few days on an island in Lake Huron, and it is understood that he was called back for a consultation with Mr. Stephenson because of political developments during the past two weeks, as both gentlemen are deeply interested in the situation in this state. Mr. Stephenson recently returned from Milwaukee, where he met leaders of the administration party, and those who are in his confidence here, while they do not talk freely upon the situation, intimate that steps are to be taken to offset whatever advantage may be gained by the opposition through organization.

TWO BOYS DROWN WHILE BATHING

Racine, Wis., July 31.—Frankie Castello and Bertie Rogers, both 11 years of age and sons of wealthy people here, were drowned in Root river last evening. They were attending a Sunday school picnic and went in bathing. One pushed the other down and the falling boy caught his companion by the leg dragging him down also.

May Move to England
Manchester, July 31.—The Guardian learns that John Rockefeller, the oil king, intends to make his future home in Southern England.

LIBERAL OFFER TO STOCK RAISERS

Southern Wisconsin Invited to Send Their Cattle to Phillips, Wis.—Plenty of Fine Grass.

Phillips, Wis., July 31.—C. E. Tobey, manager of the Tobby Land company, says he is willing to furnish the stock raisers of Southern Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa with the free use of 50,000 of Price county land for the remainder of the season. He also said that Mr. Killen would undoubtedly be leased to make similar arrangement. These lands are all covered with a fine growth of clover, timothy or blue point, and the cattlemen would have to furnish only the herders.

Price county is becoming known for the best clover lands in the world, and its production of forage plants is something unusual. Lands have been selling at a rapid rate during the past year, and quite a number of stockmen from other states, recognizing the value of this county, have located here. A seeding of clover has never been known to have been winter killed, and the crops of grasses cut this year are up to the average.

The offer of Mr. Tobey is no bluff. He is able to do it, and the stockmen in those localities who do not desire to sacrifice their herds will find it to their advantage to accept it.

COOPER ENGAGED FOR SEVERAL YEARS

His Family Knew the Marriage Was Coming a Long Time Ago—A Matter of Fact Affair.

New York, July 31.—According to statements by the Rev. J. T. Cameron, who performed the ceremony, and by Isadore Manheim, a half-brother of the bride, there was nothing in any way unusual about the marriage of Representative Henry A. Cooper of Wisconsin and Miss Amelia Sara Cooper Phillips of Brooklyn.

"It was essentially a matter of fact affair," said Mr. Cameron. "I am a personal friend of Isadore Manheim, a half-brother of the bride, and he engaged me for the ceremony more than a week ago. The wedding party came to the parsonage on Saturday afternoon and I performed the ceremony more than a week ago. The party consisted of the bride and bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Manheim, a Miss Leo and several friends of the family.

Isadore Manheim, the bride's half-brother, said that he and his family had known of the engagement for at least two years.

"They met in Washington," he added, "several years ago and were betrothed very much as couples are. The wedding would have occurred long ago only on account of my sister's ill health."

There are valid reasons why the races scheduled for the Rock county fair at Evansville will be highly interesting; for Will Campbell, better known as "Bill" will be in the judges' stand as starter. Will has a method of his own, entirely different from the old routine way of up to the wire and go; even though it be nothing more than a slow mule race, he can by introductory remarks given regarding the animal and the driver make you think that you are at the Hawthorne.

MEAT CONTRACTS LET

Madison, Wis., July 31.—The state Board of Control yesterday let the contract for supplying the state institutions with meat for the next three months to Swift & Co. of Chicago. The price is considerably lower than it was three months ago. At that time the board was compelled to pay $6.32 1/2 per hundred for prime native steers, while today it got them for $6.49. The institutions use about $4,200 worth of meat each month.

THOUSANDS ARE STILL LINED UP

El Reno, July 31.—The third day of the homestead drawing found thousands, still lined up in front of the drawing platform. The immense crowd is orderly and quiet. Over 85 per cent. of the claims have been drawn by Oklahomans, but this may be accounted for by the fact that a great many who live in other states registered from Oklahoma.

THREE DEATHS IN A TENEMENT HOUSE

New York, July 31.—Three members of the family of James McCoy were killed and Mrs. McCoy probably fatally injured in a fire in their tenement home in Brooklyn early this morning. The father, son and daughter died from suffocation, the mother was injured by jumping from a third story window.

SEE SIGNS OF LOATING

Washington, July 31.—The treasury department, at the request of the department of justice, will attempt to trace the history of articles displayed for sale in a store window in Minneapolis with a placard stating that the articles were taken during the occupation of Peking by the allied troops. The department of justice suggests that it should be learned who brought the articles into the country, how he obtained them and whether or not the customs duties were paid.

ROYAL HEAD IS IN DIRE PERIL

Attempt to Assassinate the Queen Dowager of Portugal.

AN UNKNOWN MAN

American Woman Gives Detectives a Clue on Which They Are Working.

MARIA PIA IS DIZZY

Aix-les-Bains, July 31.—Queen Dowager Maria Pia of Portugal narrowly escaped assassination today at the hands of an unknown man. Her majesty, who was taking a course of baths at this famous health resort, was so seriously shaken by the attempt on her life that she left immediately for Rome. The police are making every endeavor to discover the criminal. Mrs. Sherwood, the American society writer, was the queen's next neighbor in the baths. She has given the detectives a clue on which they are working. The news of the attempt on the queen dowager's life rapidly spread through the community of 15,000 visitors, and occasioned the greatest excitement. The fact that the attempt had failed caused the greatest satisfaction. Queen Maria Pia is known personally to many people here. She has mingled freely with her acquaintances at the baths. Her sweet disposition and democratic manner have evoked the affection of all with whom she has come in contact. The attempted assassination is regarded with horror. Maria Pia, Queen Dowager of Portugal, was born Princess of Savoy in 1847. She was married to the late King Luiz of Portugal in 1862. She was the favorite sister of the late King Humbert of Italy, and is aunt of the present King of Italy, Victor Emmanuel III., with whom she has taken refuge. King Luiz was easy-going and good-natured to a fault, and Maria Pia was high-tempered and imperious to an extraordinary degree. The king pardoned the disreputable Duke of Saldanha for conspiracy, but Queen Maria told him on the first occasion of meeting him after his release from confinement: "Would to heaven, duke, that I had been king, for you should have been shot within twenty-four hours." There have been all sorts of trouble between the queen dowager and the Queen of Portugal, her daughter-in-law. In spite of the fact that she is a grandmother, Queen Maria Pia is fifty in the extreme. The popular Italian tenor, Bassini, was banished from Portugal on account of the infatuation the queen dowager manifested for him. But Maria Pia has also her good points. She wears a medal for the rescue of two children from drowning by plunging full dressed into a gale-swept sea.

HAY TOOL COMPANY GOES TO CHICAGO

Think They Will Get the Benefit of Cheaper Freight, and Be in Closer Touch with Buyers.

The Janesville Hay Tool company has decided to remove its plant from this city to Chicago and some time next month. It is claimed that by this change of location they will not only get the benefit of cheaper freight rates but will be in closer touch with the heavy buyers and the eastern market.

The company was incorporated in 1884 with a capital stock of $24,000, which was later reduced to $12,000. The present officers are J. C. Blackford, president and treasurer; David K. Jeffris, vice president and Chas. Cox, secretary. Last fall the plant was sold to Frank C. Patten, of Sycamore, Ill., a buyer for Montgomery Ward & Co. of Chicago. Hugh O'Hara, of Chicago, has been manager of the company since last August. Mr. O'Hara will open an office at 122 Lake street, Chicago.

While the Hay Tool company is to leave the city, the manufacture of hay carriers is still to be carried on by the Rock River Machine company, of which Frank B. Struckler is secretary and treasurer and was the patentee of the machine and for seventeen years was the manager of the old concern.

NEGROES GO TO MELROSE PARK

Chicago, July 31.—Twenty negroes were employed at the Latrobe Steel Works, Melrose Park, yesterday. The residents of the village who prevented the importation of a large number of colored men recently, resent the arrival of the negroes and they are having difficulty in getting board.

ROMANCE OF TRAGEDY?

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 31.—The visits of an unknown woman to a spot in this city on the bank of the river have led to the unearthing of some unidentified human bones, and back of the discovery may be a romance or a tragedy.

ARTISANS' SCHOOLS PROVE PRACTICAL

Department of the State University
Summer School—How and Why
That Work Is Done.

There is a department at the university of Wisconsin summer school this year which is absolutely unique. According to the Wisconsin State Journal nothing of its kind is to be found anywhere else in the country. Wisconsin enterprise is solely responsible for its existence. This department, which has aroused favorable comment all over the United States, is the school for apprentices and artisans.

The credit for originating the plan is due to J. B. Johnson, dean of the college of engineering. It was established at the beginning of the session this summer as an experiment; something to be looked into and tried. Now, toward the close of the six weeks it has proved its practicability and will very likely become a permanent institution. Its success is claimed by both the students and professors.

In the school there are some forty men taking up the work. They range in age from fifteen to fifty-five or so. From the youngest to the oldest they are enthusiastic about it. They come not only from all over this state but from other states as well. Their testimony is that the work is practical from beginning to end and gives them just what they want to get. The instructors say that the students are good workers and improve every moment of their time. They realize that their time for study is short and make the most of it.

About one-half the students have taken correspondence courses in some branch of engineering before attending the university summer school. The school is not opposed to correspondence institutions, but rather approves of them. There are no mail courses at the university, so that when some one applies for correspondence instruction, they are referred to some regular school of this sort. The student who knows the theory of a certain line of work has more time to put in on experiments and the proving of his principles.

The many pieces of expensive apparatus belonging to the university are given to these students to use. Besides this the J. I. Case Threshing Machine company has given the school the use of two traction engines and the Hart and Parr company one of their gasoline engines.

Courses are given the students in steam engineering, applied electricity, machine design, materials of construction and transmission of power, shop work. The greater part of the student's time is spent in laboratory or shop work. Tuesdays and Thursdays, between twelve and one o'clock there is a lecture hour, and on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays the students attend the lectures from eight till twelve. The rest of the time from eight to twelve and from one to five is spent in applying the principles laid down in the lectures. There is very little recitation work. The men who are attending the school know what they are there for and apply themselves accordingly. The time is so short that it was not thought the benefits of recitations would correspond with the time consumed. Problems, however, are given at the lectures for the students to work out for themselves.

The work the students get is all of a sort that will be useful to them afterwards. In most cases, where the pupils are able to follow it, it consists of work such as given university students in their third and fourth years. Of course the work is varied in some ways to meet the requirements of those who have never had the higher mathematics.

On account of the comparatively small number of students each one receives individual attention, and goes on in his shop work or laboratory practice without waiting for the others. The men learn wiring, lighting, banding and testing of dynamos, forging, wood working, use of lathe, plane and milling machines, testing of wood, iron and steel, etc. In their laboratory work, among other things they set valves on engines, test the quality of steam, examine engines under different conditions and test boilers.

There is a uniform entrance fee of fifteen dollars charged all students taking this course. This applies to both residents and non-residents of the state of Wisconsin, and also to all regular engineering students who take their shop or other work in the regular summer session of the university. In addition to the entrance fee there are shop and laboratory fees charged at the rate of five cents per hour of actual total time spent in any laboratory or shop. These fees are payable in advance at entrance. The entrance fee cannot be refunded. In case of sickness or other unavoidable withdrawal, before the middle of the term one-half of the shop and laboratory fees paid in is refunded.

The Best Kind of Fighting Man.

The enviable position assumed in the South African war by all the colonial contingents, whether Canadian, Australian or South African, illustrated exceedingly well M. de Bloch's repeated statements that the old fashioned European army does not make the most effective modern soldier. What is needed under new conditions is a large measure of individual initiative; and the colonial volunteers possessed this in a much higher degree than some of the best drilled regiments of the British army. The regular army of the United States has a high merit by modern tests, largely because of the material from which it has been recruited, and also from the circumstances under which it has been doing volunteer service in small and scattered detachments. Our prevailing conditions of life in this country develop an unusual degree of self reliance in young men, and as a rule the young American learns the use of firearms. M. de Bloch points out the fact that the modern rifle and smokeless powder give a wholly new importance and meaning to guerrilla warfare, and that on this account it will be increasingly difficult to bring wars to a decisive conclusion. The natural capacity of Americans for this kind of warfare is so great that no conceivable combination can invade the United States. These principles, as they come to be generally perceived, must have the most profound bearing on the early future of military organization and methods of Europe, and they must be allowed to have their bearings on our new methods. Mere drilling and old-fashioned tactics, while undoubtedly useful in themselves as a matter of training and discipline, are no longer the things by virtue of which a nation is going to win or lose battles. High spirit, intelligence, vigor and adaptability in the individual man will count for more than anything else; and it is necessary, first of all, to maintain these ideals of American life and democracy according to which the great objects of institutions like ours is to maintain equality of conditions and promote universal education and prosperity. This means true education as the national safeguard.—From "The Progress of the World," in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for August.

IMMENSE PRICES ON WILD ANIMALS

Difficulty of Trapping and Transporting Them From South Africa—

Methods Used by Hagenbach.

People sometimes wonder at the immense prices put upon wild animals. The forests of Africa and other parts of the world, are full of wild beasts, they argue. It is only necessary to trap them and bring them home. Why, then, should a giraffe cost a thousand pounds and a rhinoceros a similar sum?

It is only a big dealer in wild beasts who can explain why his commodities are so costly. But when he details a few of the risks in this most risky of all businesses the only wonder left is, not that wild beasts are so dear, but that they are as cheap as they are.

Carl Hagenbach is the biggest wild animal dealer in the world. Quite three-quarters of the beasts on exhibition all the world over have passed through his hands. His name is known in African jungle villages where his kaiser's has never been heard. Africa is Hagenbach's chief hunting ground, and his store house for wild animals near Cape Town, covers thirty acres of ground and costs £7,000 to £9,000 a year for wages and upkeep. It must be remembered that nearly all the rarer animals of Africa have now been driven up behind the Zambesi. This means 2,000 miles of tortoise traveling for the trapper before a start can be made.

The last Natal hippopotamus was killed about five years ago, Koodoo,gnu, and hartebeest, have long been practically extinct in the Colony, and though lions are still fairly common in Rhodesia, the rarer creatures, like giraffe, and rhinoceros, and elephant, are constantly retiring before the white man to the center of the continent.

The man in charge of a trapping expedition must be experienced, resourceful, must know the country, the languages, and be something of a doctor in the bargain. He takes fearful risks, especially from fever, and must be proportionately paid. Hagenbach gives his men £12 a week and all expenses. The latter are enormous. Native carriers must be hired by the score. They know their worth and insist on proportionate pay. Each carries 60lb., and the charge on such a load merely from the East coast up to the Great Lakes is two or three shillings a pound. Big amounts of stores are a necessity, for not only must guns, ammunition, traps, tinned goods, groceries, portable boats, and medical comforts be taken, but also large amounts of cloth, needles, and beads to pay the natives for fresh supplies and for information.

That terrible insect, the tsetse fly, is another indirect cause of the African trapper's great expense. The creature, whose bite is fatal to horses, mules and oxen, makes human transport the only means of getting goods up to the interior.

The item of traps is a serious one. Lions are taken in a net 18 feet square, and rimmed by a very powerful elastic band. Such a net cost £30 to £40 by the time it reaches the scene of action, when it is set over a pit near a water hole. Portable bamboo cages are also necessary in which to transport the savage captives.

Elephants, rhinoceros, and hippopotami are trapped in pits, labor for the digging of which is another item in the hunter's bill.

The inexperienced man who caught a rhinoceros in a pit in the middle of Africa would be equally puzzled as to how to get the creature out, or, when out, to get it down to the coast. An inclined plane must be dug for the first, and then the huge brute, half tamed by hunger and fright, must be securely shackled with great chains and ropes and so led through tangled forests and over stony or sandy plains for many hundreds of miles, all the time at imminent risk to the leaders' lives. Food and water too are absolutely necessary for such a captive, and if the country is sterile such must be carried. It is wonderful how soon even a rhinoceros will give up and die if not properly fed.

The two most difficult of all known creatures both to trap and to get to the coast are the giraffe and the zebra. The latter can only be caught in high and barren hills and with the utmost difficulty because of its shyness; while the giraffe is rapidly approaching extinction. The latter was told by a gentleman who had charge on its way home of a zebra now in England that it was the only one that reached the coast out of fourteen caught in Abyssinia. Giraffes, too, have a heart breaking habit of dying suddenly, on the way down country. A fine young specimen, safely shipped a couple of years ago to England, disappointed its keeper at the last minute by breaking its long neck against a beam. Even when he has his animals safe at the port of shipment, the collector's troubles are far from over. Practically no tropical beast will stand the change to damp, cold climate of Northern Europe. They must be slowly and gradually hardened off. Most elaborate apparatus for this purpose is used in Hagenbach's store house, near Cape Town. The temperature in the lion's cages, is slowly lowered by means of ice. Monkeys are acclimated in similar fashion.

Tapir the Most Expensive.

The Indian tapir is at present the most expensive of all wild animals; £1,500 is its price, a giraffe now fetching £1,000 to £1,200. Two horned rhinoceroses cost £800 to £1,000. But some animals are practically priceless. These include the African gorilla, and the Kadiak bear. The gorilla has been caught; many specimens have been, indeed, brought to the west coast but this man like ape is so habituated to the steamy atmosphere of its native forests that it is the rarest thing for one to survive the voyage to Europe. As for the Kadiak bear, the greatest of all the bear tribe, which prowls through the wooded valleys of Kadiak Island, off Alaska, no specimen has yet been caught alive. Seeing that the creature weighs up to a ton and is strong in proportion, it seems doubtful if a full grown one ever will be seen in a menagerie.—Tid-Bits.

AFTERNOON PAPER MOST SUCCESSFUL

Most Influential and Best Paying
Dailies in Large Cities Printed
Towards Evening.

The most successful dailies in America today, at least from a financial point of view, are the afternoon newspapers. This is especially true in the west; but in the great metropolitan centers, New York and Chicago, where the ancient supremacy of the morning newspaper still obtains in a way, the afternoon editions are making the money which the morning editions are spending. As a single example of this fact, take the Chicago News, whose pages, crowded every evening in the week with advertising, brings in the princely revenue which enabled Mr. Victor Lawson to make the Chicago Record a model morning newspaper. Cast your eyes whithersoever you will—to Detroit, Milwaukee, Kansas City, Denver, St. Louis, Cleveland, Cincinnati, San Francisco, Pittsburgh—and the daily which is making the money is issued at the close of the day. Without at this time entering into the question of which is the better newspaper, the morning or the evening—it must be evident that there are sound business reasons for this financial success, which is the more surprising when one recalls the great influential morning dailies of not so many years ago. Those were the days of personal journalism, when people bought the New York Tribune, not to read the news, but to see what Horace Greeley had to say. There were giants in those days—but they did not print newspapers as we understand the term today.

The world does its work in the day time. In the evening it amuses itself. The afternoon paper is an attempt to help the world amuse itself in the evening by reading what it has done in the day just closed. I say an attempt because the problem is yet in process of solution. A telegraph editor, who has served long terms at both the day and the night desks, once said to me:

"There is no denying that fully 30 per cent. of the important happenings of the world are first chronicled in the day report. The night report not infrequently follows on with interesting opinion and gossip about the happening, but the actual happening itself is almost invariably an old story by the time the morning paper gets it to its readers." And that is true.

The afternoon paper is still very far from being a perfect product even in a comparative sense. Probably no one realizes its shortcomings more keenly than those most intimately concerned in putting it together. The hot haste with which this daily synthesis is accomplished increases the liability to error and the striving for accuracy on a conscientious afternoon paper is quite as strenuous as the race against time. But I believe that with the constant improvement in methods, machinery and men, the afternoon newspaper will inevitably outstrip its morning rival and become the leader in every department of journalistic activity.—H. E. Chamberlain, in National Printer-Journalist, Chicago, Ill.

New Parlor Cars.

Two parlor cars, named respectively "Janesville" and "Beloit," "spick and span new" from the builders have been received from the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway and will be placed at once in the service for which they were expressly built—between Chicago, Janesville and Madison.

The new cars have an interior finish of mahogany and are seventy-five feet in length. The exterior is the St. Paul standard color. In addition to the usual parlor, seating thirty people, each has a large observation room, a state room and buffet. The latter, besides being fitted for ordinary buffet service, is equipped with a broiler from which steaks, chops, etc., can be served. The equipment in service on the St. Paul road to and from Southern Wisconsin points has received many favorable comments. The new cars—the handsome so far built—will complete the finest day trains leaving Chicago.

GOLF TOURNAMENT ON AT MILWAUKEE

Janesville Players Will Be on Deck, and Hope to Capture Some of the Prizes.

Messrs. Albert Schaller, Chester Brewer, H. H. McKinney, F. S. Sheldon and S. D. Tallman left this morning at 7:30 o'clock for Milwaukee to represent the Janesville Golf club in the Milwaukee country club's annual tournament which opens at Milwaukee tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock.

In Milwaukee the Janesville golfers were joined by Fred J. Baker, who has been enjoying his vacation playing golf on various courses in Wisconsin and northern Illinois. He went to Milwaukee from Chicago today. The Janesville players are all entered in the tournament which Milwaukee enthusiasts claim promises to be one of the best golf tournaments ever held on the links.

The list of entries is large and includes some of the best players in the state as well as some who have an all western reputation as golfers. Hamilton Voss, of Milwaukee, who won the state championship in the state tournament of this city, and Joseph DeMoss, of Green Lake, runner up in the last tournament, will be among the best players from the state who will take part. Louis Alis and O. C. Fuller, both of Milwaukee, will also be among the number who are expected to give a good account of themselves in the tournament. Chicago will also send some fast representatives and golfers who qualify will have to be pretty good.

Seven loving cups have been put up as trophies and they will go to their winner as absolute property. The cups will be awarded as follows: One cup for the best score in the preliminary round, medal play, eighteen holes; one for Milwaukee Country club players, one for the best gross score in the handicap match, one for the best net score, a cup for the runner up and the championship cup for the winner of the tournament.

Tomorrow morning will be devoted to the preliminary medal round of eighteen holes in which the sixteen players making the best scores will qualify for the contest for the Milwaukee Country club cup, which is the championship cup. The second and sixteen will contest for the consolation cup and the first rounds in both contests will be played tomorrow afternoon.

Friday morning the second round in both contests will be played and the afternoon will be devoted to the semi-finals. The final rounds of thirty-six holes will be played Saturday when the handicap cup contest will be played and approaching, putting and driving contests with prizes for each event will be held.

The Milwaukee Country club has made every arrangement to treat the visiting golfers handsomely. There will be an entertainment each evening at the club pavilion and luncheon and dinner will be served each day at the club.

ESCAPES FROM AN ASYLUM

Aged Man Expects to Prove His Sanity.

CLAIMS DANVILLE PROPERTY.

Writes and Tells How He Got Away from Kankakee—In Michigan He Intends to Make a Final Effort to Regain Estate.

Kankakee, Ill., July 31.—Aaron Morgan, seventy years old, at one time a well-known politician of Danville, Ill., who escaped from the Kankakee Insane asylum six weeks ago, has written to a friend in this city, informing him that he is at the home of a prominent man in Michigan.

"I shall make one more effort to establish my sanity," writes Morgan, "and if my wife and children are not allowed to testify against me I believe I shall be successful. Then I shall try to get possession of my property."

Morgan owned at the time of his commitment to the asylum, three years ago, about $3,000 worth of property in Danville, which is now in possession of his wife and children. He was a highly respectable citizen until he seemed to become highly wrought over religion. He would preach in the streets, denouncing Danville municipal authorities, and according to his wife and daughters his treatment of them was brutal. One of his daughters, a stenographer for George Buckingham, who was at that time a trustee of the Kankakee Hospital, testified last October that her father had beaten her with a buggy whip.

It was on the testimony of his wife and daughters that Morgan's petition to secure his release from the asylum on a writ of habeas corpus was defeated at the last October term of Kankakee County Circuit court in spite of the efforts of the local Baptist minister, the Rev. W. R. Anderock, and other citizens who believed him sane. Now Morgan expects to start another case in a Michigan court and hopes to secure his legal freedom.

Morgan states that he did not escape in woman's clothing. He pronounces that a story of the attendants to excuse their negligence. He escaped one Sunday afternoon during a band concert when the attention of the attendants was diverted. Boarding a freight train he made his way to Otto, a small station on the Illinois Central, a few miles south of this city. He had $4, $3 of which he had been saving for a year, and $1 of which his wife had given him to buy fruit. At Otto he bought a ticket for Chicago and boarded an Illinois Central passenger train. As the train passed through Kankakee he crouched down in his seat and pulled his hat over his eyes. Arriving at Chicago he called on a brother of General John C. Black, whom he had known in Danville, and who not only supplied him with money, but saw him to the train that took him to the home of a friend in Michigan.

Ends Fast of Thirty Days.
Boston, Mass., July 31.—Dr. Immanuel Pfeiffer has completed his fast of thirty days, during which time his menu has been only cold water. He said he was confident he could live for sixty days on three pints of water a day, and he would issue a challenge open to anyone in the world for a long-term fast. He received a letter of congratulation from Dr. Tanner, the famous faster. The doctor looked the picture of health and he declares he has not lost weight materially, despite the fact that his fast included the trying hot spell.

Bride Dances to Death.
McKeesport, Pa., July 31.—Mrs. Anna Brudowicz, aged 22, a bride of twenty-four hours, danced herself to death at her wedding feast here. Mrs. Brudowicz was married to John Brudowicz, one of the leaders in the Polish settlement of McKeesport. Mrs. Brudowicz had finished the ninety-fourth round of the room with as many different guests when she complained of feeling sick, and almost immediately dropped over in a faint and died.

Explosion Aboard a Yacht.
Chicago, July 31.—The deadly gasoline barrel, believed to have been ignited by a stray cigarette, exploded aboard the launch Kid, belonging to Vernon C. Seaver, yesterday afternoon, burned and otherwise injured four men. Including its owner, destroyed the Kid, set the Columbia Yacht Club house and the Naval Reserves' station on fire, and came near working havoc to the expensive yachts anchored helplessly in the harbor.

Killed in a Train Wreck.
Kremlin, Ok., July 31.—The north-bound Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific passenger train No. 2, which left El Reno at 7 o'clock, three hours late, crowded with departing housekeepers, was wrecked while going at full speed two miles south of here at 1:45 o'clock. C. L. McLain of Enid, Ok., was killed and twenty-four other passengers received cuts and bruises. It is believed none was fatally hurt.

Tiger Mangles a Small Boy.
Logansport, Ind., July 31.—A black tiger in a cage with Robinson's circus succeeded in getting far enough through the bars of its cage to lay open to the bone the flesh on the top of the head and face of a 6-year-old son of John Rush, an indulgent father who held his boy to the upper window of the animal's cage that a better view might be obtained before the side boards were let down.

ESCAPE A BAD WRECK.

Wabash Passenger Running at High Speed Saved from Disaster.

Peru, Ind., July 31.—The Wabash fast mail, with a load of passengers, escaped a disastrous wreck near here last night by good fortune that is little short of miraculous. The train was running at the rate of fifty miles an hour near a long curve seven miles east of Peru, when the headlight of a work train going in the opposite direction came into view. Within a few seconds the trains would have come together with such force that much loss of life must have resulted. The full force of the emergency brake was applied and the engine was reversed, but the engineer and fireman had so little hope of averting disaster that they jumped to the ground to save themselves. The crew of the work train engine took similar precautions, and then they, too, fled from their posts. The trains came together on the curve with such force as to break the engine pilots and headlights and badly batter the front ends of the boilers. The passengers were badly shaken up, but the only persons injured were two men who, alarmed by a warning whistle from the engine, had put their heads out of windows. They were not severely hurt. Mrs. R. H. Berndt of Wabash, an invalid, was prostrated by the shock. The passenger train had been delayed by the burning of a bridge, and through a bungling of orders the work train was allowed to leave here while the passenger train was between stations. So sure were the railroad officers that a wreck would occur that a relief train with physicians and nurses was got ready and started from here as soon as the mistake in the orders was discovered.

CANCER

The diseases most feared are those which are inherited—handed down from generation to generation, and family to family. By far the most destructive of these is Cancer, which finds the greatest number of its victims among the children and grand-children of those whose blood was tainted with this dreadful malady. You may carry this poison in the blood for years, but as the vital powers begin to wane a slight bruise or cut, wart or mole, sore or pimple may develop into Cancer. From middle life to old age is the time when the slumbering poison is most apt to break out, a sore or ulcer often degenerating into Cancer, and Tumors become more progressive and ulcerate through the skin, the sharp, shooting pains causing the most intense suffering.

The Cancer patient naturally grows despondent as one after another the usual remedies fail, and the sore shows no sign of healing. The impurities that have been accumulating in the system, perhaps for generations, cannot be eliminated nor the poisoned blood made pure by salves, washes and plasters. The proper treatment is to purify and build up the blood, remove the cause, when the sore or ulcer heals.

Mr. J. B. Arnold, of Greenwood, S. C., writes: "A tiny ulcer came, just under the left eye. It began spreading, and grew worse rapidly, destroying the flesh as it went. As Cancer is hereditary in my family I became thoroughly alarmed, consulting the best physicians and taking many blood medicines, none of which did me any good, when one of our leading druggists advised me to try S. S. S., and by the time I had taken the second bottle the Cancer began to show signs of healing, the discharge grew gradually less and finally ceased altogether, the sore dried up and, nothing remains but a slight scar. I feel that I owe my life to S. S. S."

wait until the blood is so polluted and the system so thoroughly saturated with the poison that no medicine, however efficacious, can check the progress of the disease. If there is a taint in your blood get it out at once, don't wait for some external evidence of it, the appearance of a tumor or ulcer. We have prepared a special book on Cancer which we will mail free. Our physicians are ready to help you by their advice and such direction as your case requires. WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST
Generally fair tonight and Thursday, moderate temperature.

The Augusta magazine shows a number of well written articles on our island possessions, and among them three on Gen. Funston's exploit.

The general is severely criticised for using the insurgent uniform and flag as well for forging letters which he signed with a captured seal. One writer goes so far as to suggest that our flag be inscribed with "Funston and Forgery."

This attitude does not seem possible to a man who claims any knowledge of international law or laws and usages governing belligerents. If the natives had carried on a warfare under the rules of civilized nations, if they had observed the dictates of common humanity in their battles, then the general would never have adopted an insurgent uniform, but even then the forging of letters would be looked upon as proper.

These are allowable rules of war, and the consideration given the insurgent leader after the capture, proves that in this affair as in all others, humanity was the prompting motive. The rapid strides made toward general pacification after Aguinaldo's capture justify the means used for his capture. Consider for a moment the good that will result from hastening the close of the rebellion as compared with the offense of using an enemy's uniform, and it will not be difficult to measure the justice of the criticism directed against Gen. Funston.

The Board of Classification of the United States General Appraisers have met and decided the famous Russian sugar case so far as this country is concerned. It has been found that Russia does pay a bounty on her export sugar, and that the treasury department was justified in levying a countervailing duty on that sugar entering the United States, to offset the bounty practically paid by its exemption from an internal revenue tax.

This decision has not yet gone to the court of last resort, so that the question is not settled for all time. The retaliatory measures taken by the Russian government have so far affected our trade to the extent of $3,000,000, and reacts on the Russian consumer by making him pay more for his American made goods.

It is surprising to West Pointers note the ratio of in the graduates from Army. West Point to those from civil life to be found in command of our army. There is given below a list which speaks for itself without comment.

Civil Life—One lieutenant general, six major generals, eleven brigadier seven staff brigadier generals.

West Point—Four brigadier generals, three staff brigadier generals. Making a total of twenty commanding officers recruited from civil life while seven are graduated from West Point.

When a burglar broke into Jessie Bartlett Davis' flat in Chicago, Mrs. Davis broke forth into a song. The song broke the rest of the slumbering policeman on the beat, and the policeman broke in the door. The burglar then broke for cover, but in getting away he broke down a fence, and also his suspenders.

When can equal a famous prima donna in the matter of causing people to go broke.

New Richmond Republican-Voice, Stalwart, Rep. John M. Whitehead of Janesville will make a most excellent governor or United States senator, whenever the party and the people want him whenever the state of Wisconsin has anything real big to give out, Senator Whitehead is our candidate.

Germany has at last made public her proposed system of customs, from which it will be seen that she has treated this nation just as fairly as any other. Her meat question is rapidly arranging itself by the increased precautions demanded against disease in domestic products.

Chicago yacht men won't play unless their boat wins. Monday's race was unfortunate for the Milwaukee, but there seems to be no reason why the judges should decide the Cadillac could not represent America in the contest for the Canada cup.

Dowie claims to have prayed up the recent rain at Chicago, but as it didn't rain dead cats, bad eggs, and delayed in transmission garden truck Chicago people take his statement with a grain of salt.

Secretary Long has issued an order directing all naval officers to express no public statements as to the Sampson-Schley controversy. This is a well considered move. Too much straw has already been unofficially threshed.

The courts hold that it is not lawful for a woman to be allowed to go through her husband's pockets, when he couldn't possibly find hers; and if he should find them, he wouldn't find anything in them.

The Chicago Tribune will soon begin the publication of an evening edition. The Tribune has always been the largest money maker in the Chicago field, and its evening issue will doubtless be as good as its morning issue—the best that cash and brains can produce.

Now that we know definitely that the Bubonic plague has existed in San Francisco for a year, it seems only a question of time when it will get to Chicago and New York.

Senator McLaurin has passed through a peculiar experience—he has been kicked out of a democracy that never was a democracy.

Rudyard Kipling has written a new poem and the Britishers are so mad that they won't excuse Kipling even on the basis that he's an "absent minded beggar" who thought not of what he wrote.

The social democracy has sent Debs to the bench. Debs wouldn't make any sacrifice hits, but wanted to play the whole game himself.

England's ledger shows an increasing debit balance in trade while the United States can point with pride to a credit of $580,000,000.

Aguinaldo is now numbered among the hasbeens—he's written a magazine article.

Saves $250,000 at Manila.
Manila, July 31.—The insular government has saved $250,000 by the passage of an act virtually declaring the stone quarries at Mariveles, in the Batangas province, public domain and authorizing the use of the stone in the harbor improvement. ## MR. MAYNE'S TERM EXPIRES TONIGHT

Superintendent of Schools Returns from His Eastern Trip—Will Go Into Camp at Kegonsa.

Supt. D. D. Mayne arrived home from his eastern trip last evening and reports a splendid time and delightful weather. He attended the great convention of the National Educational association at Detroit and from there he went to Chautauqua where he has since been enjoying the assembly. He says that the maximum temperature which he has seen during his absence was 84 degrees.

Today is the last day of Supt. Mayne's official connection with the public schools of this city as their superintendent. His term of service expires tonight with the passing of the month of July. With the month of August a new year begins and H. C. Buell enters upon his duties as Supt. Mayne's successor.

Supt. Mayne went to Lake Kegonsa today to join his wife and sons who are in camp at Graceland park. They will remain at the lake until about August tenth when they will return to this city for a few days before leaving for their new home at Ishpeming, Mich.

KING WILL BE WITH RINGLING BROS.

Mrs. Norman Bichtler, Better Known as Miss Madel Hall, Joins the Baraboo Boys' Circus.

George Hall, the veteran showman, his daughter, Mrs. Norman Bichtler, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Dolan, were over from Evansville to see the circus yesterday and were the guests of Mr. Hall's cousin, Mrs. John Manning.

There is a strong possibility that Mrs. Bichtler and her wonderful horse, King, will join the circus. Ringling Brothers are quite anxious to secure Mrs. Bichtler, who is better known as Miss Madel Hall, but she also has a very flattering offer from Buffalo Bill to join his show. Early last evening she had not decided what she would do but this morning word came from Evansville that she had signed with the Ringling show and that she and her horse would join it at Sterling, Ill., today.

Mrs. Bichtler drove over from Evansville with the celebrated horse which she broke and trained herself last summer. King is a beautiful white horse and competent judges in this city say that he excels any of the horses which Ringling Brothers have with them in cake walking and fancy steps. On the way down from the circus grounds last evening he gave quite an exhibition on South Main street to the delight of the pedestrians who happened to see it. King is a wonder and is said to be without an equal in the world.

Mrs. Bichtler is also remarkable both as a rider and as a trainer. She understands horses thoroughly and is very fond of them which is largely the secret of her success. She has just returned home from a trip in the southern part of the United States and Mexico with a show for which her husband has the refreshment privileges.

Short Revolutionary Song.
Brussels, July 31.—The socialist members of the chamber of deputies made a disturbance in the house this morning, during which the "Internationale" was sung to the accompaniment of slammed desk lids.

Taking exception to a refusal of the president of the chamber, M. de Sadeleer, to put a motion for adjournment, a section of deputies commenced a noisy demonstration which made it impossible for the president to maintain order. The din was terrific and the disorder culminated in the socialists and leftists lustily shouting the revolutionary song mentioned.

Retains Title of Countess.
London, July 31.—The house of lords has finally settled the moot point whether or not a peeress after divorce and remarriage is entitled to retain her divorced husband's title. The question was raised by Earl Cowley, who objected to the lady who divorced him continuing to call herself Countess Cowley after she married again. The verdict of the lower court was in favor of the earl, but that of the appeal court favored the woman, and now the house of lords has upheld the latter's right to the name of Countess Cowley.

Empress Frederick Worse.
Homburg, July 31.—At a late hour last night the condition of Dowager Empress Frederick was reported to be very serious. Emperor William is returning from his Norwegian cruise and will arrive here in three days.

German Troops Have Quit Pekin.
Pekin, July 31.—There are only twenty-five men, a legion guard, left of all the German troops who were formerly here. The last of the Germans left to-day. The British have not yet left.

Two Thousand Draw Farms.
El Reno, Oklahoma, July 31.—Two thousand lucky homesteaders received permission today to enter farms in the Indian reservations about to be opened for settlement. The drawing in the government lottery was witnessed by additional thousands of eager people who were brought by train or prairie schooner or had slept during the night on the hillsides. Ten thousand claims are left to be disposed of, and although the applicants number 164,000, all are cheerful and hopeful and the utmost good nature prevails. Today's selections were equally divided between the El Reno and the Lawton districts. Omer K. Benedict of Chicago was one of the prize winners in the former.

STREET RAILWAY BROKE THE RECORD

Carried 6,846 People in Six Cars
Yesterday—Largest Day's Business Ever Done Here.

The street cars did a record breaking business yesterday, the six cars carrying 6,846 people, the largest day's business ever done in the city. The receipts for the day exceeded by $20 those of Ringling day last year when the tents were pitched at the fair grounds. It was a long and busy day for the street car employees. They did not get through work until after one o'clock this morning. Then Supt. Hurd took them all to Con. McDonald's restaurant and entertained them at supper. By the time they got home it was almost time to start out again, as they have to be ready for duty at the power house about six o'clock. None of the motormen had time for more than a snatched-up luncheon at either dinner or supper time.

It was a great day and everyone coined money. The restaurants and hotels turned people away and the restaurant proprietors were kept busy until three o'clock this morning. Local liverymen were among those who shared in the profits of the day. One prominent liveryman said that his three busses averaged $50 apiece. Every rig larger than a single carriage was kept busy.

One of the sections of the circus train got mixed up in a wreck coming out of Oshkosh yesterday morning, which was largely responsible for the delay in reaching this city. No serious damage was done but the animals were badly shaken up. Several of the horses had their legs skinned and one of the elephants was crippled.

It will be considerable of a surprise to the many people who enjoyed the wonderful work of the Holloway trip on the slack wire to know that they were all of the male sex. The young maiden who did such marvelous feats is in real life a young fellow eighteen years old. He has a great feminine make-up and fools the best of them.

The soda water fountains were kept running until after 1:30 o'clock and they were busy all of the time. A prominent druggist says that there were more people on the streets at 1:30 o'clock this morning than there were all the forenoon today.

One of the big wagons broke through the bridge last night after the show. One rear wheel went through the planking clear to the hub and eight heavy horses dragging it along helped to make the damage greater.

The show property was all loaded up by 12:30 o'clock last night. It was extremely interesting to watch the work and the expeditious manner in which it was done. Every man knew his place and by the time the evening concert was over, all the seats but the reserved ones were packed up, the rings, and aerial trappings were stored away and most of the tent poles were down. The concerts themselves represented no small sum of money, as the reserved seats were filled both afternoon and evening. That money was a clear gain, the outlay being very small.

Ringling Brothers say that they were never so hard up for horsemen and horsewomen. They could use to advantage fifteen or twenty good riders if they could get them.

COUNTRY VISITORS ENJOYED CIRCUS

Farmers Came in Drove From All Parts of the County—An Ideal Show and All Well Satisfied.

Never did circus day pass off so beautifully before. It was an ideal day and a perfect night, speaking from the weather point of view. There was an immense crowd of people in the city, no bad accidents, no unpleasant occurrences and everyone went home last night tired and perfectly satisfied. Spectators were delighted with the parade and the show and Ringling Brothers were well pleased with the reception given them by Janesville and indeed by all Rock county.

Immense audiences applauded the splendid features of the circus at both the afternoon and the evening performances. The audience that saw last night's performance was one of the largest evening audiences that ever visited a circus in this city. The performance also was the best. As a rule an evening performance is cut very short by a desire to get loaded up for the next jump as early as possible. Many circus managers are also actuated by the feeling that they have secured all of the money they can get any way and it doesn't make any difference how poor a show they give at night.

The Ringling Brothers, however, have made a name for dealing fairly and honorably with the public and they give the people their money's worth at night as well as in the day time. The performance is strictly up-to-date and many of the features are new and very entertaining. The work done by the trained horses and elephants was almost beyond belief, riding, aerial and acrobatic work was all of a high order and the clowns had new and grotesque antics.

It is estimated that over 20,000 people saw the great circus. Many people were so enchanted with the afternoon performance that they went again at night and they were not people with passes either. Some idea of the crowd that came from out of town can be gained from the fact that Beloit contributed fully 500 people and nearly 400 railroad tickets were sold out of Edgerton. Other surrounding towns did likewise and hundreds of people drove into the city. The best of all was that no one who came was disappointed or dissatisfied.

While the crowd was an immense one its coming seemed to make no disturbance and no trouble. Hotels and restaurants were taxed to their limit of capacity but they cared for their patrons splendidly. The restaurants were thronged after last evening's performance and after the evening's performance had been feed there was scarcely a scrap of anything eatable to be found at any of them.

Another feature of the day was that it was quiet in police circles. This is also largely to the credit of the Ringling Brothers who do everything in their power to protect themselves from a following of sneak thieves, grafters and crooks. They allow no short change artists among their great army of employees, patrons are treated courteously and honorably and the success of the showmen is a living exemplification of the old adage, "Honesty is the best policy."

CIRCUS GROUNDS VISITED BY FIRE

An Exciting Time About the Horse Tents—Some of the Animals Slightly Burned.

There were two exciting fires at the circus grounds yesterday, one in the morning which destroyed the large horse tent and one in the afternoon near the blacksmith shop in which three ponies were quite badly burned on the legs and a hole was burnt in the tent.

The morning fire was the most disastrous and the origin of it is unknown although it is thought that some one must have carelessly dropped a match in the straw or grass close to the tent.

The two horse tents, the eating tent and the blacksmith shop were located south of the Janesville & Southeastern railroad tracks while the main tents and menagerie were north of the tracks. The larger horse tent was further east and further south than any of the others being near the corner of Beloit avenue and Robbins street. The second horse tent was directly west of it and the other tents were between them and the railroad track. Had the wind been from the south instead of from the northwest the other tents would have been doomed. As it was when the fire burned the grass to the two roads it went out.

The spread of the flames was also vigorously checked by the army of employees who beat them out with coats and blankets. The scene was one of great excitement. Men rushed into the tent and brought the horses out hurriedly, six and eight horses to a man at one time. Broad furrows were quickly plowed around the other horse tent to prevent any possible chance of the grass burning in that direction.

The tent, which was the largest tent the show men own, was about half consumed by the fire and it was necessary to stake the horses out in the sun for the rest of the day. Ringling Brothers telegraphed to Baraboo for another tent to be sent them today at Sterling, Ill.

The fire in the afternoon started from a spark from the blacksmith's forge and was also a lively one although quickly controlled. Trouble in getting three of the ponies untied resulted in their burning their legs. The fire department was not called out for other fire, the showmen preferring to keep the affair as quiet as possible for fear people might be afraid to attend the performances. Between two and three acres of grass was burned over.

THOMAS DAVIS SENT TO WAUPUN

Quick Work in a Larceny Case in the Municipal Court—Was Given One Year.

Thomas Davis pleaded guilty to grand larceny in the municipal court this morning and Acting Municipal Judge sentenced him to one year at hard labor in the State prison at Waupun. Sheriff Maltress took the prisoner to the pen this afternoon.

Davis claimed to be a resident of Columbus, O., and said that he had been in the circus business for thirteen years. Davis went through a box under a circus wagon at the show grounds yesterday. The box belonged to one of the drivers and the lock was wrenched off and a quantity of clothing and jewelry stolen. The jewelry was found on Davis when he was arrested.

He claimed that there were three people mixed up in the affair. One was called "Slim" and the other "Shorty." He did not know their names. He said that "Slim" took the clothes. Davis claimed that he did not steal the stuff but had part of the swag, and as the stuff was found on his person he could do nothing but plead guilty. Another party was arrested but there was no evidence to connect him with the crime and the officers evidently got the wrong man.

The Municipal Court

William Kelly was before the municipal court today charged with being drunk and disorderly. He was found guilty and Acting Municipal Judge Earle gave him the choice of paying $4.40 or going to jail or ten days in jail. Being shy of dollars he took the days.

Martin Gagan was charged with assault and battery, the complaining witness being Peter Dolan, and the alleged assault was committed on July 25th. John Griffin pleaded not guilty to the charge of common drunkard preferred against him. His case was set for August 2nd at ten a. m. and in default of bail in the sum of $100 he languishes behind the bars.

THE SANTIAGO BATTLE.

An Empire Wiped off the Map in Twenty Minutes.

Richard Harding Davis has put the Santiago naval battle in fiction. (Some have applied the same term to portions of his earlier accounts of the fight.) He has a story in Scribner's, from which the following is taken:

"It was 9:30. 'It's church service,' he said, 'I can see them carrying out the chaplain's reading desk on the Indiana.' The press boat pushed her way nearer into the circle of battle ships until their leaden hued hulls towered high above her. On the deck of each the ship's company stood ranged in motionless ranks. The calm of a Sabbath morning hung about them, the sun fell upon them like a benediction, and so still was the air that those on the press boat could hear, from the stripped and naked decks, the voices of the men answering the roll call in rising monotone, 'one, two, three, four; one, two, three, four.' The white clad sailors might have been a chorus of surprised choir boys.

"But up above them the battle flags slumbering at the mastsheads stirred restlessly and whimpered in their sleep.

"Out through the crack in the wall of mountains, where the sea runs in to meet the waters of Santiago harbor, and from behind the shield of Morrow castle, a great, gray ship, like a great gray rat, stuck out her nose and peered about her, and then struck boldly for the sea. High before her she bore the gold and blood-red flag of Spain, and like a fugitive leaping from behind his prison walls, she raced forward for her freedom, to give battle, to meet her death.

"A shell from the Iowa shrieked its warning, in a shrill crescendo, a flutter of flags painted their message against the sky. The enemy's ships are coming out, they signaled, and the ranks of whiteclad figures, which the moment before stood motionless on the decks, broke into thousands of separate beings, who flung themselves panting down the hatchways, or sprang cheering to the fighting tops.

"Heavily, but swiftly as islands slip into the water, when a volcano shakes the ocean bed, the great battle ships buried their bows in the sea, their sides ripping apart with flame and smoke, the thunder of their guns roared and beat against the mountains, and from the shore the Spanish forts roared back at them, until the air between was split and riven. The Spanish war ships were already scudding clouds of smoke, pierced with flashes of red flame, and as they fled, fighting, their batteries rattled with unceasing, feverish fury. But the guns of the American ships, straining in pursuit, answered steadily, carefully, with relentless accuracy, with cruel persistence. At regular intervals they boomed above the hurricane of sound like great bells tolling for the dead.

"It seemed to Channing that he had lived through many years. That the strain of the spectacle would leave its mark upon his nerves forever. He had been buffeted and beaten by a storm of all the great emotions; pride of race and country, pity for the dead, agony for the dying, who clung to blistering armor plates or sank to suffocation in the sea; the lust of the hunter, when the hunted thing is a fellow man; joys of danger and of excitement, when the shells lashed the waves about him, and the triumph of victory, final, overwhelming and complete.

"Four of the enemy's squadron had struck their colors, two were on the beach, broken and burning, two had sunk to the bottom of the sea, two were in abject flight. Three battle ships were hammering them with 13-inch guns. The battle was won.

"The captain of the tugboat was staring at the face of his silver watch as though it were a thing bewitched. He was pale and panting. He looked at Channing piteously, as though he doubted his own sense, and turned the face of the watch toward him.

"Twenty minutes! Channing said. Good God! Twenty minutes!"

"He had been to hell and back again in twenty minutes. He had seen an empire which had begun with Christopher Columbus, and which had spread over two continents, wiped off the map in twenty minutes."

SAVES LIFE

Willard, Ill., August 1, 1900.

I was in bad health this spring and could not sit up in bed for four weeks. When I was confined my child died. When I began to sit up I felt so weak and had such terrible pains in my back and hips. I had kidney trouble and falling of the womb. I also had hysterical spells. I was in a bad condition when I received your "Ladies' Bitchday Almanac" and read the advertisement of Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught. Since April 20th, I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui and three packages of Theodor's Black-Draught. I feel like a new person now. I can do all my work and can walk out to see any of my neighbors. I believe I would have been in the grave had it not been for Wine of Cardui. IT SAVED MY LIFE.

Mrs. ALICE DAVIS.

It is well that women are more patient than men. Few men could bear the bitter pangs, the agony and distress that women endure. Thousands of women have come to look upon suffering as a duty of their sex. But there are many instances of this heroic fortitude which now renders unnecessary. Women need no longer suffer for modesty's sake. Wine of Cardui brings relief to modest women in the privacy of their homes. Many of the best homes in this city are never without this great medicine. It cures whites and falling of the womb and completely eradicates these dragging periodical pains. Mrs. Davis' cure shows you conclusively what you may expect if you follow her example and take Wine of Cardui. Theodor's Black-Draught aids Wine of Cardui by regulating the stomach and bowels. When you ask your druggist for these medicines, be sure you get them. It was Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught that saved Mrs. Davis' life. Never take a substitute.

WINE OF CARDUI

Isn't it Worth 25c. To Be Cured of Constipation

People who suffer from habitual constipation with all its attendant ills, clogged stomach and bowels, sluggish liver, heartburn, indigestion, and thin and impure blood, are too apt to believe that the only remedy is violent purgatives. The contrary is the case. Such cathartics, even if they do move the bowels, are irritating and griping, leave the stomach inflamed and enfeebled and the constipated condition recurs with greater difficulty of cure and the sufferer constantly growing worse. There is a laxative that moves the bowels without pain or griping, cleanses the stomach, sharpens the appetite, stimulates the liver, strengthens the nerves, and purifies the blood, while its marvellous tonic properties tone up the entire system and keep it healthy.

Laxakola Does It

Its remarkable tonic properties reach every organ—the liver, kidney, and stomach, nerve, heart and brain—and removes the cause of your debilitated condition. This is the only way to secure an absolute and permanent cure.

Laxakola is the only medicine for babies, is purely vegetable and its action is gentle, speedy and effective. For coated tongue, simple fevers, colds, chills and languid feeling it is the ideal medicine.

It tastes good. Children like it and ask for it.

Laxakola, the great tonic laxative, is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical, because it combines two medicines, viz: laxative and tonic, and at one price. No other remedy gives so much for the money. At druggists, 25c. and 50c., or send for free sample to LAXAKOLA CO., 132 Nassau Street, N. Y., or 338 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

Trade supplied by King's Pharmacy and People's Drug Store.

PILES DR. WILLIAMS' INDIAN PILE OINTMENT is a SURE CURE for all kinds of PILES. It absorbs the tumors, relieves the itching at once, gives instant relief. Every box is warranted. Sold by druggists. Sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents and $1.00 per box. WILLIAMS MED. CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio.

BOWSER, THE WIZARDHE MAKES A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY IN WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

The Great Scientist Explains His Invention to Mrs. Bowser and Then Makes a Few Experiments, With Surprising Results.

(Copyright, 1901, by C. D. Lewis.)

Mr. Bowser had a look of triumph in his eyes as he reached home the other evening, a look to tell even the family cat that he had picked up a pointer with millions in it during the day and was bent on an after dinner experiment. Mrs. Bowser groaned inwardly as she realized it; but, though he anticipated being questioned at table, she held her peace and waited for developments. It was after the finish of the meal and with an air that told of victory that he began:

"A woman doesn't know much, of course, just enough to enable her to dodge a cable car or a butcher cart,

"HELLO THERE, BRIDGET O'HALLAHAN!" but perhaps you have heard of the new idea in science—wireless telegraphy?"

"I have seen it mentioned in the papers," stily replied Mrs. Bowser.

"Then you know what the idea is. It is to telegraph without wires, or by sound waves of the human voice. The human voice, as I may explain to you, does not issue from the throat like a piece of turnip, but in waves following each other so closely that it is hard to detect the intervals between them. For instance, my voice as I now speak to you seems to string out like a rope, doesn't it?"

"Yes; I was just thinking how much it resembled an old clothesline."

"Thanks. Ignorance always tries to hide behind sarcasm. However, there are scores of breaks or intervals in my voice just the same, only your ears don't detect them."

"And what if they don't?"

"Ah, there is the key of the whole thing. Two or three people are working at it, but they have just missed it as yet. They don't go on the right principle. They forget that the last sound or wave must be heavy to drive the other waves before it to a distance."

"And so some one has started you off on that fad?" she queried as he balanced himself on his heels and looked down upon her in a pitying, patronizing way.

"Call it what you will, Mrs. Bowser—fad, discovery or tomfoolery—but I have solved the problem for the world, and the name of Bowser has been placed above those of Edison and Tesla. Yes, ma'am, idiot as I am, I have given the world wireless telegraphy at last."

"How did you do it?" she asked, becoming interested in spite of herself and thinking there might probably be something to it after all.

"By experiment, my dear woman—by experiment and a happy intuition. If you can be half way decent for the turned around, "and we shall hear from Bridget soon. She jumps from her chair. She rushes across the kitchen. She is on the stairs. Now she appears."

So she did. She appeared with a dish in one hand and a cloth in the other, and she was pale faced, and her eyes were rolling.

"Who called me?" she demanded, looking from one to the other.

"Do you see?" asked Mr. Bowser as he turned to his wife.

"Who called me and said that my mother died at 5 o'clock?" shouted Bridget as she waved both dish and cloth.

"My dear woman, did you ever hear of wireless telegraphy?" soothingly asked Mr. Bowser as he laid a hand on her arm.

"Never, sir, and if it was you that said my poor mother was dead, and you were glad of it, I'm out of this house in two minutes. I have never lived in the family of a villain yet and with the help of heaven I never will."

He spent 15 minutes trying to explain the affair to her, but in the end she insisted on taking a five mile street car ride to see if her mother was alive or dead, and she hinted that she might not return for a day or two. When she had retired to her domain, Mr. Bowser consoled himself by saying:

"I ought to have remembered that she didn't know putty from pepper. You must admit that my system is a success, however."

"Yes, your yell could have been heard a block away," replied Mrs. Bowser, "but I don't consider it a real test at all. You'd have to have a roar like 40 bulls to drive the sound waves 10 or 15 miles."

"That shows all you know about it. How far is it from our back door to the rear of the flat fronting the next street?"

"A hundred feet maybe."

"Well, I know a man named Jones on the third floor. I'll go down into the back yard and send him a message, and you'll hear no 40 bull voices about it."

Three minutes later Mr. Bowser had reached his station. In a voice hardly above a whisper he sent his clear the track wave ahead by calling:

"Jones! Jones! Ah, there, Jones! Say, Jones, do you hear me?"

If Jones did, there were no signs of it, but Mr. Bowser went on with the message:

"Tell Jones that I know where he was last night, but I'll keep mum about it."

Then he lifted his voice a trifle for the driving wave, and the whole thing was supposed to be rolling in on Jones through wall or window when an old tin pail struck Mr. Bowser in the stomach, a piece of coal found a resting place on his chin, and bottles and cans hit all around him and voices cried out:

"Peg him ag'in! It's old Bowser out throwing poison to our cats and dogs!"

"Come into the house with your wire wound foolery if you don't want to be killed dead!" shouted the cook as she reached outdoors for him, and Mr. Bowser felt the wind of an old demijohn as he backed into a place of safety. The woman squared off with her hands on her hips and began about her head mother anew, but Mr. Bowser passed up stairs without a word. Mrs. Bowser sat reading and trying to look unconcerned, but he marched up to her and shouted:

"Woman, this is your revenge, but don't chuckle too soon! Instead of discouraging me you have made me a desperate man!"

"Did you call up Jones?" she innocently queried.

"Jones? Jones? What the deuce have I got to do with Jones? I'm talking of would be murderers and assassins. Woman, this is the climax. Tomorrow next half hour, I will show you a few things to make your hair curl. In all the experiments thus far made the operators at each end of the route have had to use devices. Observe that I use nothing of the kind. I simply face in a certain direction and set the sound waves rolling. We will suppose that I am in New York and the cook down stairs is in London. I want to communicate a message to her through the receiving operator. I open the stair door—so. That gives my voice a chance. I will now set the sound waves going by crying out at the top of my voice:

"Hello there, Bridget O'Hallahan!"

"That is what may be called the driving wave, to clear the track, and I follow it with:

"Your mother died at 5 o'clock this afternoon."

"That's the message, and I now drive it along by shouting at the top of my voice:
